PRESENTATION

The thrilling encounter between the most popular instrument and classical music, in a show full of humor and poetry!

Oum Pa Pa! Opus 2 is a bold musical performance by a daring all-female quartet, where the accordion dreams of opera and ventures into the world of "grand music." This unique instrumental encounter creates a dreamlike recital, where Bizet meets Yann Tiersen, and Tchaikovsky mingles with Piazzolla.

Oum Pa Pa! —a playful nod to the three beats of the waltz— makes the classical accordion twirl through surprising musical tableaux, surrounded by two transverse flutes, a viola, and sometimes piccolos. The quartet's high-flying technique, honed in prestigious national conservatories, brings to life rich, warm, and tender musical scores.

With impeccable choreography and a delightful touch of fantasy, they blend tango, opera arias, and Russian ballets in a performance that is both captivating and full of joy. Classical music to be savored with a smile and a light heart!
